From the President

It is my pleasure to take a moment to highlight how your contributions have led to exciting gains for Shepherd University over the 2013-14 academic year. With your help, we have laid the groundwork for a stronger, more self-reliant future. We started the year by opening our center in Martinsburg. This state-of-the-art facility was built to meet the needs of working adults with technologically advanced classrooms and comfortable spaces for learning and gathering. Equally as important, the academic programs that we offer support the needs of businesses along the I-81 corridor, and the combination of high quality education, first-rate customer service, and economically relevant programming has resulted in first-year benchmarks for the Martinsburg Center being exceeded.

In the same spirit of providing students opportunities to grow with the changing needs of the community, we took the first steps toward the development of Shepherd's first doctoral program, a doctorate of nursing practice (D.N.P.). While there is still a significant amount of work to do, the implementation of this program will represent an important milestone in Shepherd's history, and one that could not have been accomplished without the synergy that comes from the community working in concert.

On another front, and with special thanks to the Leadership Circle, we were able to begin the process of reinvesting in our business programs. We are fortunate to have professional programs that produce many of the region's most successful business and community leaders. Building on the work of the faculty to reinvigorate our liberal arts core curriculum, it is now time to turn our attention to our professional majors. This effort will be doubly important as we work to implement the McMillan Family International Initiatives, especially in the recruitment of international students who are interested in professional preparation.

I mention these three initiatives among all the gains made throughout the year because they are such strong symbols of your support. Each of the initiatives I mention above moved forward because talented people like you saw their worth and invested by advocating on campus and in the community for their progression. You worked on committees, communicated with the HEPC, worked with our representatives, and talked to your neighbors about the need for support. As if that were not enough, you contributed financially, thereby assuring that Shepherd would succeed. In the following pages you will see the direct impact of your gifts on students and on the university. To all of you who gave, I extend thanks on behalf of this wonderful place called Shepherd.

Sincerely,

Suzanne Shipley
President

Milestones

BRCTC President Peter Checkovich and President Suzanne Shipley

SU and BRCTC sign articulation agreement

Shepherd University and Blue Ridge Community and Technical College established several articulation agreements in education, nursing, and credit-for-experience degrees (Blue Ridge CTC's Board of Governor's A.A.S. degree to Shepherd's Regents Bachelor of Arts degree). President Suzanne Shipley and Blue Ridge CTC President Peter Checkovich signed the agreements June 30, 2014 in a ceremony at Blue Ridge CTC.

Leadership Circle funds business program review

The Leadership Circle ended its charter year with more than 60 members. The Leadership Circle helped launch the university's initiative to increase the stature of the business program by funding the involvement of two internationally recognized experts in business program development—Randy Boxx and Jerry Trapnell—to help define the next steps for increasing the program's competitiveness. After conducting an extensive review of documents and data that included reaccreditation processes and strategic plans, they met with internal and external groups, including faculty, staff, students, administrators, alumni, and community leaders to obtain additional information. The resulting report is a five-phase plan to change the structure, strengthen the resource base, and adopt curricular changes.

SU named Best in Southeast for eighth year

For the eighth year, Shepherd University was named one of the best colleges and universities in the southeast according to the Princeton Review's website. The New York City-based education services company selected Shepherd as one of 138 institutions it recommends in its Best in the Southeast website feature titled 2014 Best Colleges Region by Region. The schools selected for the Princeton Review's website section were rated in six categories: academics, admissions selectivity, financial aid, fire safety, quality of life, and green.

The Martinsburg Center offers the Regents bachelor of arts degree (R.B.A.); bachelor of science in nursing (B.S.N.) in the R.N. to B.S.N. track; bachelor of arts, early education, PreK-K, (B.A.); master of business administration (M.B.A.) with concentrations in accounting, health care, public management, and sport management; and master of arts, curriculum and instruction (M.A.) with a concentration in multicategorical special education.

Kamenica gives 141st Commencement address

The 141st Commencement address was given by Dr. Emir Kamenica, professor of economics at the University of Chicago, who came to the U.S. as a 15-year-old refugee after his father was assassinated by Serbian forces in the former Yugoslavia.

Baccalaureate degrees were awarded to 810 undergraduates, and master's degrees were awarded to 70 grad students at the ceremony held May 10, 2014.

Dr. Emir Kamenica

Student Affairs named a Promising Place to Work

Shepherd University was one of 31 institutions named a Promising Place to Work in Student Affairs (PPWSA) 2014 by the American College Personnel Association (ACPA) and Diverse: Issues in Higher Education magazine. The PPWSA national study, a collaborative project between ACPA and Diverse magazine, was conducted by the Center for Inclusion, Diversity, and Academic Success (iDEAS) in the College of Education and Human Ecology at Ohio State University.

Shepherd's Office of Student Affairs supports the university's mission and core values through promoting student learning, engagement, success, service, and satisfaction through services, programs, and functions. It has 27 departments, functions, and units.

Shipley is serving as COPLAC president

President Suzanne Shipley is serving as president of COPLAC (Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges). It was her leadership that led Shepherd to apply for membership in the organization in 2009. COPLAC membership includes just 28 public liberal arts colleges.

McMillans establish international initiative

Bob and Tia McMillan know the power of unrestricted giving. Both have served on the Shepherd University Board of Governors and understand that unrestricted gifts allow Shepherd to respond to opportunities that enhance the strength of Shepherd. They expressed their commitment to Shepherd by becoming charter members of the Leadership Circle. This year their unrestricted gift was put to work funding the McMillan Family International Initiative. With the McMillans' support, Shepherd is now poised to take advantage of a new enrollment market while strengthening the educational experience for all students by providing increased exposure to other cultures and perspectives.

Ellzey named state Professor of the Year finalist

Dr. Betty Ellzey, chair of the Department of English and Modern Languages and professor of English, was selected as a finalist for the West Virginia Humanities Council's 2013 Faculty Merit Foundation Professor of the Year. Ellzey specializes in Old and Middle English language and literature and Medieval and Renaissance drama and is the director of The Rude Mechanicals Medieval and Renaissance Players, a theater company created 15 years ago.

Williams wins silver medal for digital book

A digital book titled The Depths of Perception, produced by Dr. Kevin Williams, professor of mass communications, won a Communicator Awards silver medal for electronic publishing and musical score.

The computer-mediated book explores the professional, pop cultural, and personal experience of scuba divers based on essays Williams wrote and on his own dive log over the last 18 years. The book demonstrates how scuba diving can change the way you experience everyday life. Williams incorporated numerous images, videos, links, and animation, either his own or from around the world, and used social media for interviews and discussions. He created the musical scoring for the book.

Corpus earns certification in personal/family finance

Dr. Kathleen Corpus, chair of the Department of Business Administration and Family and Consumer Sciences and assistant professor of family and consumer sciences, earned the Certified Personal and Family Finance Educator (CPFFE) credential from the American Association of Family and Consumer Sciences.

The credential is an assessment-based certification for personal and family finance educators that is developed by national financial leaders. It is consistent with the U.S. Department of Treasury Financial Education Core Competencies and National Standards in K-12 Personal Finance Education created by the Jump$tart Coalition for Personal Financial Literacy.

The CPFFE requires ongoing professional development and documentation through quality training experiences on a three-year certification cycle.

Nolan received a $180,000 student undergraduate research experiences grant to be awarded at $60,000 a year for three years. Cole and Robertson each received $20,000 instrumentation grants. Hendrickson-Lambert received a $40,000 innovation grant which she will use to establish the Laboratory of Genomic Diversity-Shepherd University (LGD-SU).

EPSCoR is a university-oriented program with the goal of identifying, developing, and utilizing academic resources that will lead to increased research and development.

Messenger awarded writing fellowship

Dr. Carrie Messenger, assistant professor of English, was awarded a three-week fellowship in May 2014 to the Virginia Center for the Creative Arts (VCCA) to pursue her fiction writing. VCCA is located in Amherst, Virginia, in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains and serves roughly 350 artists a year. During their residencies at VCCA, artists are provided with a comfortable private bedroom, a private studio, and three prepared meals a day. Beyond the breakfast and dinner hours, there are no schedules or obligations. Artists are able to be highly productive because the residency provides them the crucial elements they need—time and space to do their work.

Scholarships funded by $627,011 STEM grant to Q. Wang and Z. Wang

Dr. Qing Wang, associate professor of mathematics, and Dr. Zhijun Wang, associate professor of computer sciences, were awarded National Science Foundation Scholarships in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (NSF S-STEM) for a grant titled "Enhancing Academic Achievement and Career Preparation for Scholars in Computer Science, Mathematics, and Engineering" which runs from June 2013 to May 2018. This five-year, $627,011 grant provides funding to support enrollment, retention, graduation, and career or graduate school preparation for 30 students.

Shurbutt named president of national group

Dr. Sylvia Bailey Shurbutt, professor of English, has been elected president of the Appalachian Studies Association for 2014-15.

The Appalachian Studies Association is a national and international organization, with an annual conference which brings together more than 800 scholars, teachers, and community organizers each year to explore topics and the arts associated with the region. Shurbutt will bring the conference to Shepherd March 25-26, 2016 when the theme, Voices From the Misty Mountains: Diversity and the New Appalachia, will be explored by scholars, writers, and presenters. Grants from the West Virginia Humanities Council will allow community members to attend some of the event programs and sessions.

Murphy and Mader awarded $4,145 grant for STEM conference for girls

Dr. Sytil Murphy, assistant professor of physics, and Dr. Jordan Mader, assistant professor of chemistry, were awarded a $4,145 grant from the NASA West Virginia Space Grant Consortium to help fund a one-day science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) conference at Shepherd for girls in grades five through eight in the fall of 2014.

The purpose of the conference, Seeding Your Future, is to increase the interests and abilities of middle-school girls in STEM-related fields and professions through hands-on activities facilitated by Shepherd faculty and students who believe in engaging girls in STEM at a young age.

Howard-Bostic presents paper, research at conferences

Dr. Chiquita Howard-Bostic, assistant professor of sociology, presented a paper titled "Women's Emotional Responses and Female-Perpetrated Intimate Partner Violence" at the Academic and Business Research Institute (AABRI) Criminal Justice and Legal Research Conference in San Antonio, Texas. At the East Coast Colleges Social Science Association 40th Annual Conference Roundtable at the Center for Innovative Technology in Herndon, Virginia, she presented research titled "The Innovative Hybrid Course Model: A Taxonomy-focused Pedagogy in a Learner-Centered Culture."

Students

Students compete in financial plan competition

Cheerleaders win second consecutive national title

The cheerleading squad earned a first place national title in the 2014 Collegiate Elite D2 All-Girl Division. The win gave Shepherd back-to-back national titles. Coached by former Ram cheerleader Lindsey Bordovsky '10, the squad plans to compete in 2015.

Opposite page, clockwise from top left: Approximately 150 students and staff members volunteered at 30 locations throughout Jefferson and Berkeley counties during Shepherd's 13th Annual Day of Service in August 2013. The volunteers performed tasks such as cleaning, yard work, painting, office and administrative work, and preparing schools for the first day of school at nonprofit agencies, public parks, schools, memorials, and a day care center.

Baccalaureate degrees were awarded to 810 undergraduates and master's degrees were awarded to 70 grad students at the 141st Commencement ceremony May 10, 2014.

Chad Vanorsdale gave a poster presentation titled "The Internet of Things: Interconnected Devices in NodeJS" at the 89th Annual Meeting of the West Virginia Academy of Science held at Shepherd April 2014. The all-day event provided opportunities for more than 160 undergraduates, graduate students, faculty, and other professionals to present their research in numerous areas of science. Dr. Jason Best, professor of astronomy and astrophysics at Shepherd, serves as the academy's president. This year's conference was designed to highlight and celebrate scientific achievements across a spectrum of disciplines, from astronomy to zoology.

The football team earned a 9-0 record in Mountain East Conference play, earning the Rams the inaugural MEC football championship title. The Rams reached the national quarterfinals before losing to West Chester and ended the season with an 11-1 overall mark.

Nursing Research Conference held on campus

Nearly 150 nurses from regional hospitals and health care agencies and Shepherd nursing students attended the fifth annual Nursing Research Conference in November 2013 at Shepherd.

Lindsey Funkhouser, a senior nursing major from Harpers Ferry, took first place in poster presentations with "Pet Therapy and Autistic Children." Tiffany Sommer, a senior nursing major from Martinsburg, placed second with "Benefits of Bedside Shift Reporting," and in third was Jenna Lewin, a senior nursing major from Winchester, Virginia, with "Reiki Therapy in Arthritis Patients." Forty-four Shepherd students participated in the poster competition.

The conference awarded scholarships to senior nursing majors Christopher Richards, from Martinsburg, and Patricia Claude, from Harpers Ferry, in recognition of their academic performance, leadership ability, and use of evidence-based practice.

Alpha Sigma Tau sorority wins food drive collection contest at Homecoming

Students participating in the 2013 Homecoming Spirit Stick Competition collected more than 1,100 pounds of food for Jefferson County families in need. Students competed as teams and sought donations throughout the community which were delivered to the Jefferson County Community Ministries Food Pantry in Charles Town.

Alpha Sigma Tau sorority won with its collection of more than 300 pounds of donated food. In addition to collecting community donations, many teams contributed their own funds for much-needed pantry staples including peanut butter, pasta sauce, canned vegetables and soups, potatoes, rice, and other essentials. The JCCM Food Pantry solicits, stores, and distributes food for the community.

Education students collect school supplies for Blackfoot Indian Reservation

Twenty-four education students in Dr. Jennifer Penland's Pedagogy II class collected school supplies for Native American students on the Blackfoot Indian Reservation in Browning, Montana. It was Penland's recent grant work involving Appalachian American Indians that caught the attention of sixth grade student, Holly Stover, in Boonsboro, Maryland, and her mother, Julia Cox, who already had connections to the Blackfoot Tribe. Stover exchanges letters with one of those Native American students, and said she got the idea for a school supply drive after her pen pal wrote that he did not have any markers, crayons, or notebooks. She and her mother visited Penland's class in August to discuss their efforts sending school supplies to the pen pal's reservation elementary school.

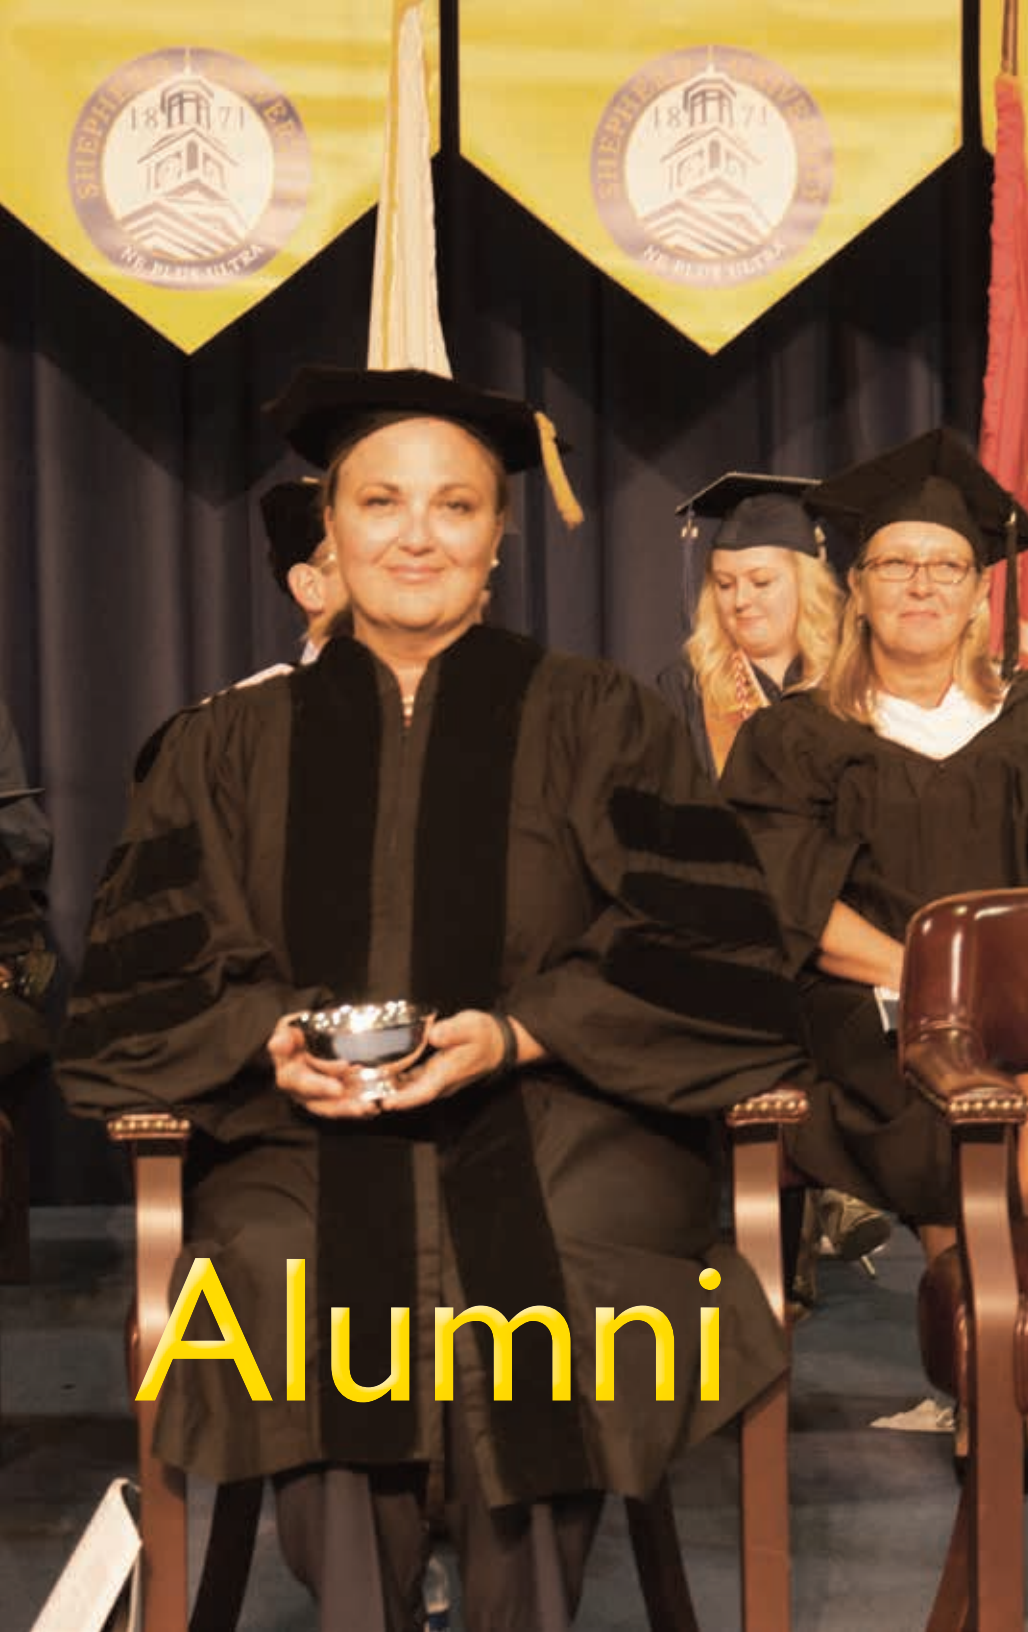

Shep-or-Treat celebrates 13th year as community outreach event

Shepherd hosted its 13th annual Shep-or-Treat event October 30, 2013. Shep-or-Treat is a campuswide community service event where students and staff plan and coordinate fun Halloween activities all over campus. Events include trick-or-treating, cookie decorating, kid-friendly crafts, Halloween photo opportunities, and a haunted house. Campus residence halls, Student Government Association, Greek organizations, the Wellness Center, Scarborough Library, and other student organizations work together to make this a fun, free evening for all.

'The Picket' named first class by ACP

Shepherd's student newspaper, The Picket, received a First Class designation from the Associated Collegiate Press. The paper scored 865 out of a possible 1,090 points and earned three marks of distinction in coverage and content, writing and editing, and leadership.

Walter Barr '62

Ram Stadium plaza named in honor of Barr '62
Walter Barr '62 was honored in September 2013 when the plaza at Ram Stadium was named the Coach Walter Barr Plaza in recognition of his achievements as head football coach of the Rams from 1971 to 1985.
A Shepherd Athletic Hall of Fame member (1989), Barr's overall record at Shepherd is 104-48-4 (66.5 percent). He led the Rams to three conference championships and a first-ever national playoff appearance in 1983. His teams produced 25 All-Americans and 59 First Team All-Conference selections. During his storied career, Barr was named Coach of the Year three times (1972, 1982, 1983).

Delaware and Virginia regional alumni chapters have busy year

Delaware Chapter

Members of the Southern Delaware alumni chapter packed and shipped exam survival boxes to current Shepherd students from Delaware. Alumnae participating included Susan Papola Breeding '72, Rita Cannon Hovermale '79, and Chris Erickson Henderson '69.

Roger '72 and Rita '79 Hovermale hosted a senior send-off event for incoming freshmen and returning Shepherd students from Delaware in August. The event included Shepherd alumni living in the area as well as students and their families.

Winchester, Virginia, Chapter

Eugene B. Smith '76 hosted a reception at his art gallery for the Winchester, Virginia-area alumni in November 2013 as a kick-off event to start the official Winchester chapter.

Alumni authors' work selected for 'Anthology'

Paul Kessler '11, Jessica Salfia M.A. '12, and Zach Davis '09 had their work selected for inclusion in the Anthology of Appalachian Writers: Frank X Walker, Volume VI, published with support from the Shepherd University Foundation and the West Virginia Center for the Book.

Kessler, Salfia, and Davis also were winners of the West Virginia Fiction Competition, selected by 2013 writer in residence Frank X Walker.

Hendrix '74 honored with Vision and Impact Award

Dr. Mary J.C. Hendrix '74 received the Vision and Impact Award in May at the 2014 Women in Science Luncheon held by the American Committee for the Weizmann Institute of Science in Chicago. Hendrix is president and scientific director of the Ann and Robert Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago Research Center. Hendrix also holds the post of professor, Robert H. Lurie Comprehensive Cancer Center at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine.

She had been a judge in the state's 23rd Judicial Circuit Court since 2006 and spent nine years as a litigation associate at firms in Martinsburg and Washington, D.C., and served as an assistant prosecuting attorney in Berkeley and Jefferson counties for more than eight years. She serves as a member of the Alumni Association board of directors.

Al '67 and Sara Taylor '67 Lueck were honored in 2013 as Outstanding Alumni. Lifelong educators, the Luecks are active in all things Shepherd. Al is a longtime member of the Shepherd University Foundation board of directors and helped develop the Ram Gridiron Club. Sara is a founding member of the Scarborough Society, friends of the library organization; serves as a board member; and chairs the annual Scarborough Society Gala. The Luecks have not missed a Homecoming since they graduated; in 2013 they had the best seat in the house as they rode in the Homecoming parade as honored guests.

New members inducted into the Athletics Hall of Fame were (l. to r.) Joel Gordon '03 (football), Cassie Murray '07 (women's basketball), former men's soccer coach Mike Doran, and Rob Bradford '87 (football). Also honored at the event held October 2013 were Taylor Rudd '58 and Charlie Yates '56. Rudd and Yates received the Athletic Hall of Fame medallion in recognition of their support of Shepherd athletics.

Sponaugle '03 named West Virginia Teacher of the Year

Erin Sponaugle '03, a fifth grade teacher at Tomahawk Intermediate School in Hedgesville, was named the 2014 West Virginia Teacher of the Year.

Sponaugle has been teaching for 10 years and began her current position in 2005. She serves as the advisor of her school's student council and school newspaper and organizes the school's social studies fair. Governor Earl Ray Tomblin presented Sponaugle with $5,000 and a new Prius donated by Toyota for her use during her year of traveling and speaking engagements.

During her tenure as teacher of the year, Sponaugle met President Obama at a White House reception honoring the national teacher of the year candidates as well as a predecessor and fellow alumna Rae Ellen Scanlon McKee '79, who was the 1991 National Teacher of the Year.

Alumni Association transitions to non-dues membership model

The Shepherd University Alumni Association made the transition to a non-dues paying organization by recognizing all Shepherd University graduates as members of the association, thereby broadening the reach of the organization while creating a stronger bond between alumni and Shepherd. The new membership model came from SUAA's desire to increase alumni involvement and engagement.

Williams '01 featured in 'Glamour' magazine's 35 under 35, Women in Hollywood

Judee Ann Williams '01 was named one of Glamour magazine's 35 under 35, Women in Hollywood. An agent at Creative Artists Agency since 2002, she was recently named co-founder of the Creative Artists Agency Foundation. CAA is the world's leading entertainment and sports agency. She is currently based in New York City.

Athletics honors McCarty '10 and Pope '74

Among the award winners announced by the Shepherd Athletics Department in spring 2014 were Matt McCarty '10, head baseball coach, and Joan Pope '74, assistant athletics director and senior women's administrator.

McCarty, who led the Rams to a 39-14 mark and their first postseason victory since 2002, was named Coach of the Year. Pope, who retired in June 2014 after a 26-year career at Shepherd, was presented the Ram Award, presented to an individual who exemplifies the ideals of NCAA II (passion, balance, resourcefulness, service, learning, and sportsmanship).

Opposite page: Held every other year, the President's Reception for Donors and Scholars gives President Suzanne Shipley the opportunity to meet the students and faculty who have benefited from scholarships and awards created through the Shepherd University Foundation, as well as providing scholars the chance to meet their sponsors.

At this year's reception, President Shipley visited with Foundation scholars and their families, including Richard Cordor of Martinsburg, recipient of the Ralph and Margaret Burkhart General Memorial Scholarship, the Frada Fine Memorial Scholarship, and the Storer College Scholarship. A junior at Shepherd, Richard hopes to attend medical school after he graduates. Though not sure yet which field of medicine he'd like to pursue, he admits to a strong interest in anesthesiology. For now, however, he's happy to enjoy the opportunities Shepherd has to offer. "It was an honor to have met President Shipley," he said of his experience at the President's Reception for Donors and Scholars. He added that the many alumni, faculty, and board directors in attendance made him feel welcome as well.

Meg Peterson

Above: This year the Women for Shepherd University continued their mission to create a sense of community for women to connect and build relationships by establishing Women Investing in Shepherd (WISH). Using a one-woman, one-vote process, this women's giving circle sponsored by the Shepherd University Foundation invites women to make an annual charitable contribution of $500 to be placed into a grant fund, which is divided into two equal pools. One pool will provide an award for Shepherd University campus-centered academic, athletic, cultural, or community service learning programs, while the other will provide an award in support of programs for education, health and wellness, arts and culture, environment, and community and family for nonprofits in the greater regional community. This inspired group is holding a series of social gatherings to educate and recruit alumnae and friends in the Shepherd community.

Right: Baley Loy, of Rippon, is a senior biology major and recipient of the Captain Charles N.G. Hendrix Memorial Scholarship. Captain Hendrix is the late husband of the late Jessie Hendrix, a longtime officer and member of the Shepherd University Foundation Board of Directors, and the father of Dr. Mary J.C. Hendrix '74, a biology alumna. Mary is an internationally renowned medical researcher and currently serves as president and scientific director for the Ann and Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago Research Center at Northwestern University's Feinberg School of Medicine.

Captain Hendrix served with distinction as an instructor at the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland. When he passed away, his wife and daughter established this scholarship in his name to commemorate his devotion to the pursuit of higher education. It is designated for students pursuing a degree in the field of pre-med or related fields of research. Having taken organic chemistry courses and performed her summer research with assistant chemistry professor Dr. Jordan Mader, Baley proved to be an exceptional student.

"Baley showed an innate understanding of how molecules react and was especially astute at applying course material to the lab portion of class," says Dr. Mader. "She is a joy to work with both in and out of the classroom."

Right: A dedicated member of the Shepherd University alumni community, John Reynolds '64 is the creator of three funds through the Shepherd University Foundation. In addition, he recently retired from service as a member of its board of directors.

John's philanthropic spirit was initially inspired by his aunt and uncle, Charles and Sarah Reynolds Ebert, who offered him an affordable housing arrangement when he first moved to Washington, D.C., to take a job with the federal government. He established the Charles David and Sarah Reynolds Ebert Memorial Scholarship in commemoration of their generosity. John later created the Thomas Guy Reynolds Endowed Scholarship in honor of his father, T. Guy Reynolds '33, also a Shepherd alumnus. In 2010, he established the John T. Reynolds Endowed Chair in Chemistry (deferred) to help recruit, recognize, and retain outstanding faculty for Shepherd's chemistry department. Having earned his degree in chemistry at Shepherd, John briefly taught high school before joining the CIA, where he had a long and successful career as an intelligence officer.

With his latest gift, made through a bequest in his will, John joined the Joseph P. McMurrin Society, a special group of donors who have made the choice to provide for the future of Shepherd University through an estate or other planned gift. Pictured at the 2014 Joseph P. McMurrin Society dinner reception, John is a regular attendee of this annual event that honors society members and their guests.

Joseph P.

McMurren

The Joseph P. McMurren Society was established to honor those individuals who wish to provide for the future of Shepherd University with a planned gift or bequest. The McMurren Society provides recognition of donors who have made such plans and hosts events to honor the Society members as well as keep them informed about the progress Shepherd University is making and its plans for the future. The McMurren Society bears the name of Joseph P. McMurren, Shepherd's first principal (president), who served from 1871 to 1882.

Left: After graduating from Shepherd, Karl Wolf '70 went on to enjoy a long and fulfilling career with his alma mater. He served as director of admissions from 1970 through 2004, at which time he was named director of athletics. In 2009, he became the assistant to the vice president for academic affairs for compliance and athletic initiatives, a position he held until his retirement in 2013. Having served as advisor to Lambda Chi Alpha, he created a deferred scholarship in its name in the hopes that other fraternity alumni might contribute toward the scholarship. "It's a very good organization that stresses brotherhood, leadership, scholarship, and community service," said Karl of the fraternity.

Karl also created deferred endowments to support scholarships for new and emerging sports and general athletics, as well as a general fund for university initiatives. Additionally, he has served as a long-time member of the Foundation's board of directors, as well as its executive committee. He is a charter member of the Joseph P. McMurren Society and often acts as a host at the organization's annual dinner reception to honor members and their guests. While Karl's presence is certainly missed during the day-to-day activities of campus life, his strong work ethic, civic involvement, and philanthropic spirit over the decades has ensured that his legacy will live on at Shepherd.

Right: Charles H. Woodward '59, associate professor emeritus of biology, was a highly respected professor of biology and science education at Shepherd for more than 30 years. When he retired in 1998, several of his students and colleagues in the Biology and Nursing Departments established the Charles Woodward Scholarship in his honor. The award is designated for students majoring in biology, science education, pre-medicine, or nursing, like those whom Charles enjoyed mentoring during his tenure at Shepherd. Charles' alma mater and former employer continues to maintain a special place in his heart – he is pictured here enjoying the annual Emeritus Club luncheon in May with his wife, Peggy.

Left: As a business administration major, senior Morgan Grega, of Charles Town, is one of several students to benefit from the scholarship awards established through the Rural Financial Planning Project (RFPP). Supporting Shepherd's business program with a concentration in financial planning, the RFPP strives to improve the lives of rural Americans through the promotion of financial literacy and the delivery of financial planning by well-trained and ethical financial planning professionals.

The RFPP is committed to providing mentoring and internships, scholarships for students, and professional development opportunities for faculty. As a result, four named funds have been created through the program, including the Rob and Mary Logan Hoxton Scholarship, the John and Lisa Wolff Scholarship, the National Capital Area Chapter–Financial Planning Association Scholarship, and the Rural Financial Planning Scholarship. Now in their third year of distribution, these annual scholarship awards have already helped several Shepherd students, including Morgan, who received the Rob and Mary Logan Hoxton Scholarship during the 2013-14 academic year. Morgan is an active member of Shepherd University's Financial Planning Club, for which she serves as treasurer. She will graduate in December 2014.

"Receiving this scholarship through the Rural Financial Planning Project has made it easier for me to focus on my classes and have more time to devote to the Financial Planning Club without having to worry about working," said Morgan. "I highly appreciate it!"

Above: Donald L. Myers '68 was a remarkable man whose role as CFO, vice president, and treasurer at American University made an impact on the lives of many. Don managed finances at the northwest Washington, D.C., university since 1982. The Washington Business Journal presented him with their Lifetime Achievement Award in 2013, recognizing his career in finance and his role as the architect of American University's financial infrastructure and strategy. A prominent Shepherd alumnus, he created the Donald L. Myers Scholarship Endowment in support of business administration, economics, and accounting students. When he succumbed to cancer in January 2014, Don left behind a great legacy in the field of higher education.

Don's wife, Margie Bryant, said, "Don was a first-generation college graduate who fully appreciated the life-changing value of a Shepherd degree. This scholarship in his name will honor his values and the life he devoted to his family and higher education"

Membership in the Leadership Circle is extended to individuals who have shown uncommon commitment to Shepherd's academic excellence through their annual support. Their willingness to invest in Shepherd through annual gifts of $1,000 to $5,000 has set the leadership standard for all alumni and friends of Shepherd University. Their gifts to the university are a true demonstration of Shepherd passion and pride.

If you are interested in becoming a member of the Leadership Circle or making an annual gift—of any size—to support The Shepherd Fund, please contact Julia Krall, director of annual giving, via email to jkrall@shepherd.edu or by phone at 304-876-5526.

Gary Kable

Left: Susan Mentzer-Blair '72 is an active and involved alumna of Shepherd University. As members of the Joseph P. McMurrin Society, she and her husband, Bill Blair, regularly attend the society's annual dinner reception. Sue also serves on the Shepherd University Foundation board of directors and is a member of the Women for Shepherd University's planning committee, as well as a founding member of its recently created women's giving circle, Women Investing in Shepherd (WISH).

This past year Sue spoke with passion at the 2013 President's Reception for Donors and Scholars about her role as executrix of the estate of her cousin, Jo Ann Mentzer '60, who passed away in August 2013. Sue was instrumental in fulfilling her cousin's wish to establish the Jo Ann Mentzer Scholarship for elementary education majors. Jo Ann commuted to Shepherd during her college years from Martinsburg, where she lived with her parents. Staying close to home and never marrying, she spent a fulfilling career teaching in Berkeley County Public Schools, touched by the many children who passed through her life and classroom.

Sue credits Jo Ann's experience at Shepherd for opening the door to opportunities that would not have awaited her had she not attended college. "JoAnn's horizons changed spectacularly because of her time at Shepherd," said Sue. "It made the difference between her going to work at the neighborhood five-and-dime or becoming a professional working woman."

Right: Priya Arumugnathan is a senior from Shepherdstown and the recipient of three Foundation scholarships, including the Multicultural Leadership Scholarship, the BB&T Wealth Management Lacy I. Rice, Sr. Endowed Scholarship, and the Helen and Albert Alvarez Memorial Scholarship. The latter was established by Ramon A. Alvarez '62, former president and current vice president of the Shepherd University Foundation, and his wife, Mary, in memory of his parents. While neither Albert nor Helen was able to attend college, they both stressed the value of obtaining a higher education.

The inspiration behind the award is befitting of Priya, a biology major on a pre-med track, who said, "Being a college student in general comes with many stressors. I'm so grateful that, with the help of these scholarships, financing my education is not something I have to worry about as well!"

Above: The Joseph P. McMurrin Society is composed of a special group of alumni and friends who have chosen to share their lifelong financial achievements with Shepherd University through estate and other planned gifts. Each spring, they are honored at the society's annual dinner reception hosted by President Suzanne Shipley and the Shepherd University Foundation. Erdem and Joan Ergin (left) and Dennis and Anne Small '67 attended this year's event, held on April 26 in the atrium of Erma Ora Byrd Hall which overlooks East Campus, where guests enjoyed a four-course meal prepared by Chef Scott Anderson and Shepherd University Catering.

Erdem established the Carole Ergin Scholarship in memory of his late wife, a social worker and community activist who taught at Shepherd for six years. Anne is a founding member of the Women for Shepherd University's annual giving circle, Women Investing in Shepherd (WISH) and has included her alma mater in her estate plans.

Attributes that draw students and faculty alike to Shepherd University.

Working together across all disciplines, we challenge our students to ask questions, discover new knowledge, develop critical thinking skills, and foster pride and passion in their work that will empower people and communities.

Private gifts through the Shepherd University Foundation are crucial in funding student scholarships, academic programs, and faculty awards to underwrite critical research and up-to-date technology that will inspire and sustain innovative curriculum.

With your support, we can transform the student experience and inspire our faculty to new heights of academic excellence.

Your gift will make a difference!

If you would like to support Shepherd University with a private gift, please visit us at www.shepherduniversity-foundation.org.
