Shepherd Today

From the President
Growth: A new dimension

Growth—it’s been a recurring theme since I arrived on the campus of Shepherd University 10 years ago. You have read about it in my messages to you in the Shepherd University Magazine. Each of the last 10 years we have reported enrollment growth. In sum, enrollment in four-year programs has grown by 34 percent. We have talked about growth in terms of programs and facilities—adding graduate as well as new four-year programs and approximately $100 million in new buildings.

Now we are at a pivotal point in the history of the University, and growth has taken on a new dimension. Next year we will celebrate the 135th anniversary of our founding. Shepherd has built a legacy of excellence in teaching, in learning, and in student development. Ours is a proud history—one which focuses on the building of leadership in a chosen field of study, in personal life, and in service to communities.

Recently Shepherd earned the designation as a university. In seeking this designation, we have expanded our vision as well as our mission. Our new challenge is not just to maintain our legacy as an outstanding four-year liberal arts college, but to build on that heritage of exceptional quality as we grow into a contemporary, student-centered teaching university.

This transformation cannot be an evolutionary process. While we must renew our commitment to our legacy of excellence in leadership we must also quickly develop the culture of a university that values teaching and learning in both the graduate and undergraduate levels. Our transformation will require expanding and enhancing our facilities; increasing opportunities for scholarships and student assistance; investing in the attraction, retention, and development of our faculty; and creating a variety of other new initiatives all designed to build a competitive and effective Shepherd University.

Achieving this vision will be dependent on new and diversified sources of funding. Thankfully, we have loyal and devoted alumni and friends who have generously invested in Shepherd throughout the years. Our recent donors are thanked in the pages that follow. Please know how grateful I am for your support.

Loyal and generous donors will be even more important to the future success of the new and unfolding Shepherd University. Enhancing our legacy of excellence will be dependent on philanthropic support. Please join me in the coming months and years as we invest in the bright future of Shepherd University.

Fall enrollment increases

Shepherd’s fall enrollment reached 3,901 students, nearly a 5 percent increase over last year’s enrollment of 3,720. “As an integral part of the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia, it is a pleasure to see Shepherd University thrive and grow,” said John Sherwood, chair of Shepherd’s Board of Governors. “These record-setting numbers are a result of significant efforts on the part of the faculty, staff, and students. Together we are proud to continue to enhance the education opportunities available at Shepherd.”

Full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment is up 4½ percent at Shepherd, 3,330 compared to last fall’s FTE of 3,184. FTE is defined as the total number of credit hours divided by 15 and is a measure commonly used for budgeting purposes.

The Community and Technical College located in Martinsburg, which was previously a component of Shepherd University, is now a separate institution, so its students are no longer included as part of Shepherd’s enrollment. The combined enrollment of both institutions last year accounted for more than 5,000 students.

Shepherd University began offering master’s degrees during the fall of 2003 and has 96 graduate students now registered, a 46 percent increase over last year’s number.

The student body at Shepherd has increased by 1,000 students, or 34 percent, since President David L. Dunlop’s arrival in 1996. Those figures do not include community college enrollment.

“We anticipate a continued steady growth over the next several years,” said Dunlop. “We are trying to manage our enrollment growth wisely in order to maximize our resources.”

SU receives Princeton Review accolade

Shepherd University has been named a 2006 Best Southeastern College by the Princeton Review.

Each college chosen this year had to meet the standards of the Princeton Review for academic excellence within its region. The listing features an overview of Shepherd including topics such as admissions, financial aid, student body, academics, campus life, and programs offered, as well as selected student comments.

The Best Southeastern College honor is designed to raise awareness of academically excellent but lesser-known schools with students looking to study within a specific geographic area.

Ram Band sees membership increase

The Shepherd University Ram Band has increased its membership 37 percent, rising from 83 musicians to lift this year’s band to 114 students. Prior to this year, the largest Ram Band was 103 students in 1998.

“I think the Ram Band’s great shows and heavy travel schedule have garnered lots of interest. No band in the country does the type of shows we do,” said Dr. Mark McCoy ’87, director.
Shepherd signs agreement with HCC

Shepherd University has entered into a collaborative agreement with Hagerstown (Maryland) Community College to further enhance the opportunities for students who choose to attend both institutions.

The specific objectives of the agreement are to better inform students of the options related to attending both schools, enhance admissions and transfer processes, consider joint programs and services to benefit students, develop mutually beneficial employee development initiatives, and create shared leadership initiatives to better serve the economic and community development needs of the combined service area.

This agreement will seek to improve curriculum articulation, create dual admissions for various programs, and enhance the offering of tuition waivers for HCC students who transfer to Shepherd University. The presidents of Shepherd and HCC will endorse a projects list created by the chief academic and student services officers and faculty of both institution on an annual basis. It is estimated that over 1,000 people hold degrees from both HCC and Shepherd University.

Social work program receives grant

The social work program at Shepherd has received a grant from the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources (DHHR) for the 2005-06 fiscal year in the amount of $146,105. With this award the Department of Social Work has secured more than $1.1 million in outside support for the mission and goals of the University and the department.

The grant, funded through Title IV-E of the Social Security Act, has three primary functions. First, the funding supports five social work students with tuition assistance during their undergraduate education. This year’s recipients are Lisa Peltier, Harpers Ferry; Tabitha Funk, Martinsburg; Lynn Luckeroth, Martinsburg; Cassie Helmbick, Purgitsville; and Dana O’Brien, Strasburg, Virginia. Once the students complete their field instruction with DHHR as a child protective service worker intern and graduate, they are hired as protective service or foster care social workers. During the 13 years this program has existed almost 40 Shepherd graduates have been trained in child welfare.

Second, the grant provides funds for ongoing training for DHHR staff and supervisors throughout the 15 county region of eastern West Virginia. The training, provided in a number of areas with the Shepherd social work program, focuses on beginning and advanced ethics, issues of separation experienced by children in foster care, substance abuse, assessment and intervention, case recording, and working with challenging cases.

Finally, additional training is provided by a regional child welfare trainer who gives a series of workshops for potential foster parents at several sites in the eastern region of the state. This training is part of a statewide initiative to increase the number of potential foster parents to meet the needs of the 3,000 children in West Virginia’s foster care system. In the last fiscal 120 people were prepared for beginning foster care service.

Senator Byrd delivers Constitution Day address

Senator Robert C. Byrd delivered the first annual Tom E. Moses Memorial Lecture on the U.S. Constitution at Shepherd in September. Through the leadership of Senator Byrd, the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2005 contained language that educational institutions receiving federal funds shall hold an educational program for their students on the United States Constitution on September 17 each year.

Sheridan named library dean

John Sheridan has been named the dean of libraries and information sciences at Shepherd. He joined the University staff on October 3.

Sheridan has been the library supervisor at Zayed University in Dubai, United Arab Emirates since 2002. He has served as the university librarian at Soka University of American in California (1999-2001), college librarian at Colorado College (1984-1999), head librarian at Transylvania University in Kentucky (1977-1984), technical service librarian at Knox College in Illinois (1975-1984), and cataloging librarian and coordinator of technical services at the University of Nebraska at Kearney (1973-1975). Sheridan was an ALA-USIA Bookfellow at the University of Kyiv-Mohyla Academy in Kiev, Ukraine (December 1996-May 1997).

He received a B.A. in classics from City College of New York in 1970, an A.M. in classical studies from Indiana University in 1972, and an M.A. in library science from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee in 1973.

He has served as a councilor-at-large of the American Library Association and as a board of directors member of the Association of College and Research Libraries.

Cater named to NCAA committee

Head football coach Monte Cater was recently selected as a member of the NCAA Division II Football Committee. One of eight members on the national committee, Cater serves as co-chair of the Northeast Regional Committee.

Cater was co-chair of a six-person committee that was responsible for the evaluation of the regional teams throughout the season, the evaluation of potential regional sites, and the recommendation of officials and teams for the championship.

Alumnae Spotlight
Truax ’76 and Kerns ’90 named Teachers of the Year

Two Shepherd alumnae have been recognized by West Virginia as shining in the field of education.

Robin Truax ’76, of Martinsburg, was named Berkeley County Teacher of the Year, and Dena Whisner Kerns ’90, of Berkeley Springs, was named Morgan County Teacher of the Year.

Truax is a health/physical education and leadership teacher at Martinsburg High School, where she has taught for the past six years. She graduated from Shepherd with a bachelor of arts in health and physical education. Truax also earned her master’s in educational administration from West Virginia University.

After learning about Shepherd from an English teacher at Allegheny Community College, Truax visited and fell in love with the school. Even though it was five hours away from her home, she knew Shepherd was a perfect fit for her.

Truax entered college in 1969 as a freshman, but had to leave because she had a retinal eye disease. The problems she had with her eye gave her the inner strength and determination she needed to accomplish anything she set her mind to. Truax returned to Shepherd in 1973 with a more resilient and mature outlook on school and life in general.

Many professors had an impact on Truax’s life, but one teacher in particular was Dr. Mike Jacobs. She took exercise physiology with Jacobs and observed his teaching strategies with students who were struggling in his class. “Every student in the class had different abilities and interests, but he would apply them to different sports so that everyone understood. I use this in my class as well and it assures that no one leaves discouraged,” she said.

Throughout her life, Truax was a stand-out athlete. Last year she was inducted into the Ocean Township High School Athletic Hall of Fame in New Jersey. However, due to her eye she was unable to compete in collegiate athletics. Her love for athletics did not hold her back from getting involved. She was a work-study student for Dave Newlin ’76, sports information director, and covered women’s sports for her last two years. She also served on the Title IX Council to assure that all sports were receiving equal opportunities.

Truax’s passion for sports and health flowed into the classroom. “I love the impact I have in the classroom. By keeping my students up-to-date on health issues and teaching them how it applies to them, I feel like I am making a difference in their lives,” she said. “We have a challenge in public schools to modify our teaching to adapt to all students. Everyone learns differently, and we have to approach each student with a different outlook.”

Morgan County native Dena Whisner Kerns enrolled at Shepherd after graduating from high school because, “I always knew I wanted to be a teacher.” Kerns chose Shepherd mainly because she knew it was a teachers’ college and her grandmother, also a teacher, had attended Shepherd.

Kerns’s grandmother, Betty Arnold, was her inspiration for becoming a teacher. Arnold started out teaching in a one-room classroom in Cherry Run and moved to an open classroom in Hancock. As a child Kerns remembers playing school with her sister and visiting her grandmother’s classroom.

During her first year she lived on campus in Shaw Hall, but love (she was dating her future husband) and family converted her to a commuter student. For the next three years Kerns commuted to Shepherd from Berkeley Springs. It was a challenge to make the commute each day, but Kerns was able to schedule all of her classes to leave the campus by 3 p.m. to return to Berkeley Springs before dark. While at Shepherd, Kerns recalls many supportive and excellent professors who she feels prepared her well for teaching.

Kerns began teaching in Morgan County schools in August 1990. She taught a third and fifth split classroom and fourth grade before settling into first grade in 1995, where she has taught since. Kerns is currently in her 10th year of teaching first grade at Widmyer Elementary School in Berkeley Springs. A pre-kindergarten through second grade facility, Widmyer holds a special memory for Kerns because she had the unique opportunity to student teach at Widmyer with her third grade teacher.

Kerns has been involved in several professional development experiences, including participation most recently in a summer camp program titled “The Art of Teaching Math.” In 2003 Kerns conducted a staff development activity in reading for other first grade teachers and received a special recognition award, the “Extra Miler Award” from the Morgan County Board of Education.

Congratulations to Robin Truax and Dena Kerns for their exemplary service in the field of education.

Every gift makes a difference
Shepherd University Annual Fund Campaign

The Annual Fund Campaign for Shepherd University is an annual giving program of unrestricted revenue to advance new initiatives and sustain current activities directly benefiting students and faculty. Unrestricted revenue can frequently be used in the most productive way possible because it has no strings attached. Your Annual Fund gifts can provide the leaders of the University with flexibility to take advantage of new opportunities and to meet unforeseen challenges.

Some of the initiatives and current activities that have benefited from annual fund revenue include academic and athletic scholarships for deserving students and funds for faculty professional development mini-grants that benefit students and the University inside and outside the classroom.

We are grateful to our many alumni, parents, faculty, and staff who have generously given to the Annual Fund. A large percentage of our past annual fund giving has been generated from the annual phonathon. This year begins a new kind of campaign for the annual fund with an emphasis on increasing participation in giving to the Annual Fund.

Participation is critical to the success of the Annual Fund because every gift makes a difference:

- Higher participation in Annual Fund giving provides a larger annual revenue fund for key initiatives and activities.
- Higher participation rates demonstrate that Shepherd is strongly supported by its alumni, faculty, staff, parents, and friends.
- Higher participation levels are a factor in our regional and national rankings.
- Higher participation levels may make Shepherd more competitive for foundation and corporate grants. A factor often considered in grant applications is the participation rate of alumni, faculty, staff, parents, and friends in giving to the Annual Fund.
- To our alumni, this is a way to reach back and give to your alma mater so that it may continue to offer a quality education to those who follow in your place.

This year the Annual Fund campaign began on campus in October. The leadership, including the boards, councils, faculty, and staff, was invited to make a gift to the Annual Fund before the end of 2005. By now alumni should have received a letter asking them to make a gift by February 1, 2006 to the Annual Fund.

A phonathon is scheduled for February 13-15 and February 20-22, 2006. This year students, alumni, faculty, and staff will be calling donors who have not made a gift. Now is the time to act. The Annual Fund campaign closes June 30, 2006. Take advantage of making a tax-deductible donation before December 31, 2005. Or start the new year with your first charitable contribution to Shepherd University.

Donations may be paid by check or credit card. You can send your donation in the Annual Fund envelope you received, or you can go to www.shepherd.edu/alumnweb/, click on the Annual Fund link, and download a donor participation form.

You may be able to double your dollars through a matching gift program. Check with your or your spouse’s employer. If your employer does participate in matching gifts, obtain the appropriate form from your employer and send it in with your gift.

Remember, every gift makes a difference no matter the size—no gift is too small. Make your donation to the Annual Fund Campaign today and be counted for your support of the Shepherd University Annual Fund Campaign. If you have any questions or wish to discuss your gift to the Annual Fund Campaign, please call Julie Siler, director of alumni relations and annual fund, at 304/876-5526 or e-mail to jsiler@shepherd.edu.

Men’s basketball preview

Fifth-year head coach Ken Tyler is looking for his team to find a way to move up in the conference standings to be better positioned to succeed in tournament play. The Rams have posted back-to-back winning seasons in WVIAC play with a 22-14 conference mark over the past two years.

The good news for the Rams is that they return eight letterwinners and four starters from last year’s team. Tyler has brought in a talented recruiting class of five players to the mix.

The bad news is that potential WVIAC Player of the Year candidate Danley Shank, Pond Bank, Pennsylvania, (20.4 scoring average in 2004-05) will sit out this season as a medical redshirt.

Guard

Senior Chad Myers, Vinton, Virginia, returns after averaging 10 points for the Rams last year. Myers shot a phenomenal .945 (52-55) from the free throw line. He also tossed in a team-high 52 treys as he connected on over 40 percent of his shots from three-point range.

Sophomore Thomas Carr, Toledo, Ohio, returns as the starter at point guard last season. Carr averaged 5.4 points and led the team in assists with a 3.9 average. He is expected to miss the early part of the season due to an injury.

Junior Donald Thomas, Baltimore, Maryland, is a very talented athlete who should assume the starting spot at point guard while Carr recovers. Junior George Gosk, Hedgesville, returns after joining the team as a walk-on last season. He will provide depth at both guard spots. A pair of freshmen, Matt Deane, Hedgesville, and Derek Gallagher, Moon Township, Pennsylvania, will also figure in the mix.

Forward

Junior Yves Moliva, Cameroon, is slated to step into a starting role at small forward. Moliva averaged 4.8 points and 4.1 rebounds in a reserve role last season. Arguably the best athlete on the team, Moliva could have a breakout season for the Rams this year.

Senior Darren Stackhouse, Alexandria, Virginia, returns as the starter at power forward. Stackhouse led the Rams in rebounding (7.3 rpg) and was second in scoring (12.9 ppg) in 2004-05. He also

Men’s Soccer

The Rams, ranked 13th nationally, finished the regular season as the number one seed in the WVIAC Tournament. The Rams have a 17-2-1 overall record with a 5-2-0 conference mark. Shepherd blanked Ohio Valley, 6-0, for its first-ever WVIAC Tournament win at home. The 17 overall wins and five conference victories set new program single season marks. Head coach Joseph Okoh became the program all-time wins leader following Shepherd’s 7-0 win over Gallaudet on October 20. Okoh broke the old mark of 49 wins held by former Ram coach Mike Doran.

Women’s Soccer

Shepherd blanked West Virginia Wesleyan, 3-0, in first round action of the WVIAC Tournament for its first tournament win under head coach Jim Sweeney. Shepherd used a six-game winning streaks of shutout victories to recover from a sluggish start. The Rams (10-9-1, 5-3-0 WVIAC) set a new program single season records for wins (10) and most conference wins (5).

Women’s Tennis

Shepherd posted an 11-6 overall record with a 6-2 conference mark under head coach Chris Stambaugh. The Rams placed third in the conference tournament by defeating Concord before falling to WVIAC runner-up West Liberty in the semifinal round. Senior Catherine Daniel, Huntington, and freshman Meredith Scaggs, Huntington, gained All-WVIAC honors for the Rams.

Volleyball

The Rams have a 12-17 overall mark with a 9-7 conference record under first-year head coach Sarah Smith. Shepherd looks to gain momentum going into the WVIAC Tournament with two conference contests remaining in regular season play.

Golf

Junior Bryan Snow, Columbia, Maryland, earned medalist honors to lead Shepherd to an eighth place finish at the Glenville State Invitational. The top team finish for the fall season was a seventh place showing out of 14 teams at the WVIAC Central Regional at Canaan Valley.
Women’s basketball preview

Fourth-year head coach Jodie Runner and her veteran-laden team look to improve on last season’s 12-16, 10-8 mark. The Rams handed Alderson-Broaddus a 69-53 loss to advance to Charleston before dropping a hard-fought 69-61 decision to conference power Glenville State in the WVIAC Tournament quarterfinals. Ten letterwinners return for the Rams, including three starters from last year.

Guard
A pair of sophomores Rebecca Frece, Springfield, Virginia, and Tiffany Acker, Mount Solon, Virginia, return after splitting the starting duties at point guard last year.

Frece averaged 5.1 points, 2.7 rebounds, and 1.5 assists as the starter at point guard in 14 games last season. Frece returns after being sidelined with an injury for the latter part of last season. Acker, a defensive standout, started 10 games last season. She averaged 4.2 points, 2.0 rebounds, and 1.3 assists last year.

Also in the mix in the backcourt is a quartet of sophomores: Nylia Zamora, Miami, Florida; Andrea Kauffman, Strasburg, Virginia; Michelle Van Dyke, Williamsburg, Virginia; and Molly Land, Hope, Indiana.

Zamora averaged 3.1 points and 1.9 rebounds last season. She was fourth on the team in steals with 22 last year. Kauffman averaged 1.9 points and 1.5 rebounds in 17 games last season. Van Dyke averaged 2.3 points and 1.0 rebounds in 10 games last year. One of the team’s most improved players, Van Dyke could cause matchup problems at 5-foot-11. Land averaged 3.0 points and 1.5 rebounds in 2004-05. The southpaw was third on the team in three-pointers with 13 last year.

Freshman newcomers Krissy Grosselin, Dayton, Ohio, and Amanda Street, Princeton, will also vie for playing time.

Forward
Senior Casey Landrum, Yorktown, Virginia, led the Rams in scoring last season with a 10.6 average. She also averaged four rebounds. Landrum led the team at the charity stripe with an impressive .900 (45-50) mark. Her 462 (120-260) field goal percentage was second on the team. She was also fourth on the team in three-pointers with 12.

Sophomore Laura Harkins, York, Pennsylvania, returns after gaining WVIAC All-Freshman last season. Harkins led the team in rebounding (7.9 rpg) and was third in scoring (8.9 ppg). Harkins also set a new program single season record for blocked shots with 68 and tied the Rams single game blocked shot mark with seven blocks against WVU Tech.

Center
Senior LaToya Fisher, Germantown, Maryland, earned honorable mention All-WVIAC honors last season after averaging 9.8 points and 6.6 rebounds last season. Fisher also posted a team-high seven double-doubles. A standout in the classroom as well, Fisher gained ESPN the Magazine CoSIDA Academic All-District College Division II Women’s Basketball Third Team honors as a computer information systems major with a 3.73 grade point average last year.

Junior Danielle Costello, Middletown, Maryland, returns after joining the program as a transfer last year. She averaged 1.6 points and 1.7 rebounds in a reserve role last season. ❇️ Chip Ransom
Tip-off banquet raises $10,000

John Beilein, WVU men’s basketball coach, was the keynote speaker at the tip-off fundraiser on October 11 at the Clarion Inn. Sponsored by BB&T, the event raised nearly $10,000 for Shepherd men’s basketball scholarships.

“It was a great evening and a terrific way to kick off the college basketball season,” said Shepherd basketball coach Ken Tyler. “We got a chance to showcase our outstanding student-athletes to the community, and we raised close to $10,000 in scholarship support. Coach Beilein was outstanding; his message of teamwork, perseverance, and character resonated with everyone in the audience.”

Beilein was presented with a handcrafted signet ring designed by Chris Rankin of Christian Caine Jewelers.

Dinner on the Diamond nets $8,000

A special first-time fundraiser drew more than 150 players, parents and fans and netted $8,000 for the baseball program. The event held August 24 on the baseball diamond at Shepherd University was hosted by the Shepherd University Foundation. Outback Steakhouse of Martinsburg donated and served food for the event.

“This event was monumental to our program,” said baseball coach Wayne Riser ’89. “I am so impressed with the turnout for the evening, the professional job of the Foundation in sponsoring the event, and the generosity of Outback Steakhouse in providing the dinner. The money raised has given a needed boost to the baseball program and will support a number of student scholarships, as well as other operational needs.”

“It always feels great to give back to the community,” said Duane Casey, Outback Steakhouse managing partner, “but this event felt really special because of the relationship between the coach, the team, and the people. We were happy to be allowed to be in a position to witness that.”

Gridiron Club honors members

Former football great Gene Lugat ’83 and long-time Ram fan Joe Walter ’66 were honored by the Ram Gridiron Club at the first home game in August for their support and commitment to Shepherd football. They were named honorary captains for the game which entitled them to participate in the coin toss at center field. They also received special Ram Gridiron stadium blankets embroidered with their names and class years.

The Gridiron Club also presented scholarships to two football players, Vincent Riggs and Dante McKoy. Thanks to member contributions, more than $10,000 was raised last year to support the football program.

The Gridiron Club is off to a good year with a record 181 members. For information on joining the club, contact Julie Siler, director of alumni relations and annual fund, 304/876-5526.

Donor and scholar reception draws 250

More than 250 guests filled the lawn of Popodocin under a fall sky on a Sunday afternoon in October. Some came to express appreciation for gifts received, others to feel pride and satisfaction for gifts given.

Every two years the Shepherd Foundation and President and Mrs. Dunlop host a special reception for scholarship recipients and their sponsors. Student speakers Justin Blanc and Ayodele Akinemi expressed their sincere thanks for the support of generous donors.

Foundation President Jim Davis read a thank-you letter from a recent scholar and Foundation Executive Vice President Monica Lingenfelter related through poignant examples donors’ reasons for establishing scholarships.

Dr. Mark Stern, vice president for academic affairs, is shown above with Erin Clark, recipient of the Mark and Barbara Stern Scholarship.

Students who spoke at the reception were Ayodele Akinemi, recipient of the Multicultural Leadership Scholarship, and Justin Blanc, recipient of the Jefferson County Historical Society Scholarship.

Gifts to the Foundation in memory and in honor of individuals

Numerous gifts were received by the Shepherd University Foundation (July 1, 2004-June 30, 2005) in memory or in honor of special people. Most of the contributions were made to scholarship funds that will benefit students now and in the future. The Foundation wishes to acknowledge the generosity of the donors and recognize the honored individuals. The Foundation sincerely regrets any errors on the memorial list and would appreciate being notified of any donor’s name that has been inadvertently omitted. Please call the Foundation Office at 304/876-5195.

George (Bo) Bragaw ’79. “Funding a scholarship at Shepherd is, in a very small way, a chance to give back and a way to pass on that legacy.”

Bo Bragaw has “walked his talk” and given back to his alma mater in a number of ways.

In 1995 Bo established a scholarship in memory of his grandfather, Robert A. Lux. He recollects, with much pride, that his grandfather was one of the last cowboys to drive cattle on the Santa Fe Trail. He was also a strong supporter of a liberal education. When Bragaw’s grandmother, Joan, died in 2005, her name was added to the scholarship.

Bragaw served as president of the Shepherd Alumni Association from 1990-1992. He is a charter member of the Ram Gridiron Club and is now serving on the University’s Pre-Campaign Committee.

A political science graduate from Shepherd, Bo earned a master’s degree from the University of Maryland. He is currently a manager with Wachovia Securities in Baltimore, Maryland.

Bo and his wife, Anita, live in Millersville, Maryland. Recently they traveled with their 11-year-old daughter Elizabeth to Russia to welcome into the family newly-adopted daughter Isabella.

As a strong supporter of Shepherd University, Bo Bragaw has made a difference through his financial support and his continuing involvement in the life of the university.
Scarborough Society Gala raises $13,000 to benefit library

The fourth annual Scarborough Society Gala “Under the Tuscan Sun,” held August 20 at the Clarion Inn, netted $13,000 to support the activities of Shepherd’s Scarborough Library.

More than 200 invited guests attended the black-tie event. Guests enjoyed a taste of Tuscany compliments of an olive oil tasting organized by Sandra Osbourn ’62 and Tom Osbourn and offered by David Bryant, of the Country Vintner, Inc. The Italian theme continued through dessert with the songs of Frank Sinatra as interpreted by Mickey Light.

The presenting sponsors for the event were BB&T Wealth Management, represented by John and Shelley Beatty, and Jefferson Security Bank, represented by Steve and Kathy Morris. Valley Proteins, Inc., of Winchester, Virginia, also contributed to the event.

John Beatty, senior vice president and city executive for BB&T for the Eastern Panhandle, stated, “We are proud to have supported the gala for the past four years. It is a wonderful event for an admirable cause. Part of BB&T’s mission is to make the communities in which we work better places to live.”

“We are happy to support this very successful event that brings together Scarborough Library supporters,” said Steve Morris, president and CEO of Jefferson Security Bank in Shepherdstown. “We look forward to the Society’s continued success.”

Scarborough Society President Ray Alvarez ’62 lauded the event for its success in raising funds and in increasing community awareness of the Society’s existence and purpose.

New board member joins Foundation

Elizabeth (Betty) Snyder Lowe ’52 was named to the Shepherd University Foundation Board of Directors at its annual meeting held in September.

Lowe, a lifelong resident of the Eastern Panhandle, has made many contributions to the civic, social, educational, and religious life of the community. She is a member of the Jefferson County Historical Society and the Elmwood Cemetery boards, and is a past member of the Shepherd Alumni Association board. In 2003 she established the John D. and Elizabeth Snyder Lowe Scholarship. The scholarship fund supports two awards, the John D. Lowe Award for junior or senior student-athletes participating in Shepherd’s golf program and the Elizabeth Snyder Lowe Award for juniors or seniors minor ing in historic preservation or majoring in history or history education. Lowe also established the Virginia Lowe Ramsberg Memorial Scholarship for nursing students in memory of her sister-in-law.

Year’s End: A good time to give
The oldest Shepherd tradition? Giving!

Shepherd University began in 1871 with a gift. Prior to that time the Jefferson County Courthouse was housed in a beautiful building in Shepherdstown built by Rezin D. Shepherd. When the courthouse was moved to Charles Town, Shepherd’s grandson, Shepherd Brooks, offered the use of the building now known as McMurran Hall as a gift, and Shepherd College was established.

Since this first gift, Shepherd has been the recipient of many gifts from alumni and friends. Forty years ago, the state funded 70 percent of the cost to educate a student. Today, the state provides 27 percent of that cost with our students bearing the remaining 73 percent. More than ever, Shepherd students are worthy recipients of your charitable investment.

As we approach the end of the year, take a moment to consider your good fortune and how Shepherd has impacted your life and livelihood and make a charitable gift to Shepherd.

Every gift to Shepherd begins with charitable intent but there are tax benefits to giving. By making your tax-deductible gift before December 31, you will reduce your taxes according to your tax bracket. Gifts by check and credit card or appreciated assets such as stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and property may be made to Shepherd University through the Shepherd University Foundation.

Give to an existing endowed scholarship or program fund. Make a gift to establish a new endowment. Give to the annual fund.
